IN MEMORY OF KATHY
DEVINE

Class of '75', Scituate High School, May 25

Hey you guys, I want to thank you for the beautiful flowers you gave me. You should have seen my face when I read the card and saw that it said from the "Class of 75" — my friends (always). You wouldn't believe how many times I've cried today on the average of about five times — about three times an account of these flowers. The doctors said if there wasn't any more complications and so on . . . I will probably be home Wednesday — I sure hope so!!! I already have four plants, one is from my roommate who left today! I also got 12 cards and some presents! (I'll get spoiled here). Well tell everybody I said "Hi" and I'll try to be back when I can — Well I'll see ya — Love always, Kathy Devine.
P.S. I love you all!

IN MEMORY OF ANN PETERS

When your love has moved away,
You must face yourself and say
I remember better days
Don't you cry 'cause she is gone
She is only moving on Chasing mirrors thru a haze

CLASS HISTORY

The resplendent autumn of 1971 was perhaps a harbinger of what we, the class of 1975, were to achieve and hope for during the four years of our high school lives. As freshmen, however, we envisaged little of what high school held in store for us. Our concepts of high school life were as unformed as our intellectual and emotional selves. Nevertheless, as the year progressed we acquired qualities and participated in activities which set us far apart in maturity and outlook from our junior high days. We were presented with a far greater freedom of choice in the form of extended campus, less rigid programs of study, smoking areas and reduced supervision due to the size of the high school.

Broader avenues of interests enlivened and expanded the scope of our social lives, from uproarious float meetings and the ill-fated project Skate, to fall football games and numerous after school clubs and activities.

As well as social growth, our emotional outlook was also altered. At junior high we were the confident upperclassmen. In high school, however, our status was considerably reduced. Our self consciousness was apparent in our nervous mannerisms, and also in the low profiles we kept. We associated mostly with fellow freshmen as our awe of upperclassmen remained undisputed.

As the year drew to an end we gladly embraced the summer months and bid goodbyes until the next September.

It was a good feeling to be back to start our sophomore year and to be able to look down on those lowly creatures — the freshmen! Their bewildered first-day expressions vividly recalled our own similar discomfiture just a short year ago.

With the advent of sophomore year, social life began in earnest and the reticence of our freshman days became truly a thing of the past. We were fully acclimated to high school and its attendant pot pourri of social, cultural, academic and athletic activities. Parties, dances, touch football games, impromptu frisbee exhibitions, and bike trips were all engaged in with enthusiasm. Junior and senior girls began casting worried glances as their boyfriends grew increasingly attentive to the beguiling females in our class. The increasing sports prowess of the sophomore boys was a constant source of foreboding to various junior and senior athletes. In any case our presence at Scituate High School was felt with increasing impact in all areas of the high school community.

With the arrival of junior year our class grew collectively more assertive, as demonstrated by animal noises in the library, the 'spirited' performances of the Junior Variety Show, the streakers, M-80 detonations in the stair wells, nerve shattering screeches down empty corridors in the middle of class, and the always popular false fire alarm or bomb scare.

On the more respectable side of events, junior year saw the development of increased emotional stability and maturity. We no longer relied so heavily on the snug security of our respective cliques. We did what we wanted to, regardless of the group.

Junior year was also marked by the Student Council's valiant efforts to resurrect the quadrangle from the weeds, the presentation of the Dalton Sports Award, and all sports trophy, and the fact that the boys' and girls' tennis teams were No. 1 in the state.

The pancake breakfast was not one of our more stellar financial ventures but did provide relief food to the Chelsea fire victims. The PSAT's and SAT's were widely scorned and despised as a leading cause of shattered egos and paralyzed posteriors. Two classes which aroused strong reaction were the universally popular coed gym classes and the universally unpopular Driver Ed classes. Junior year was also the time when we explored more extensively that realm of conviviality known as the 'Glades' where sundry refreshments were consumed in generous quantity.

Senior year was the year of expectation. Throughout high school we had looked forward to this year — surmising that it would be a time of limitless social enjoyment and a release from our academic burden and/or boredom. This, however, was not entirely the case. Despite the usual degrees of the 'senior slump,' we found our time schedules as cramped and harried as junior year. The landslide of tests, test dates, recommendations, application essays and the other thousand and one details involving the college application process were mainly responsible for this.

Senior year saw the arrival of a popular new principal, Mr. Collins. Also this was the year of double sessions and the arrival of the 'Munchkins' from the Junior High School.

The Senior Variety Show and the Senior Prom were both events to be remembered as they were characteristic of our class spirit and enthusiasm.

Despite the frustrations and difficulties, the cramming and the long hours spent on term papers, the events and experiences of our high school years will continue to grow larger and brighter as the passage of time enriches our memories.

Our graduation day was the culmination of our years in high school. It was a day unique in what it symbolized — four years where change was rampant and the realization of latent maturity imminent.

JUNIOR PROM

On April 19, 1974, the Class of '75" held their prom at the Bluehill's Country Club. This marked the first time in Scituate High School's history that a prom was held outside the town of Scituate.

We'll talk about it LATER.

Tie a Yellow Ribban Round the Old Oak Tree??!!

ZZZZZZZZZZ

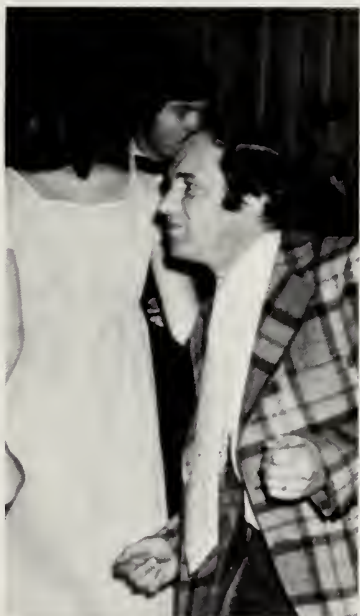

I haven't had this much fun since the pancake breakfast!

CLASS ADVISORS

It is a rare thing, except it be from a perfect and entire friend, to receive good advice.

Ms. McNulty, Mr. Leone

As your advisors, we have mixed emotions watching you graduate from Scituate High School. Sad feelings, knowing that we will not be seeing some of you ever again. Happy feelings, knowing that you are fully prepared to meet the many challenges that will face you in the years to come.

We hope that you can look back at your four years at Scituate High School and say that they were rewarding and fun. You responded enthusiastically to the many challenges that faced you and participated eagerly in our activities. You should be proud of new traditions which you have started during your four years at Scituate.

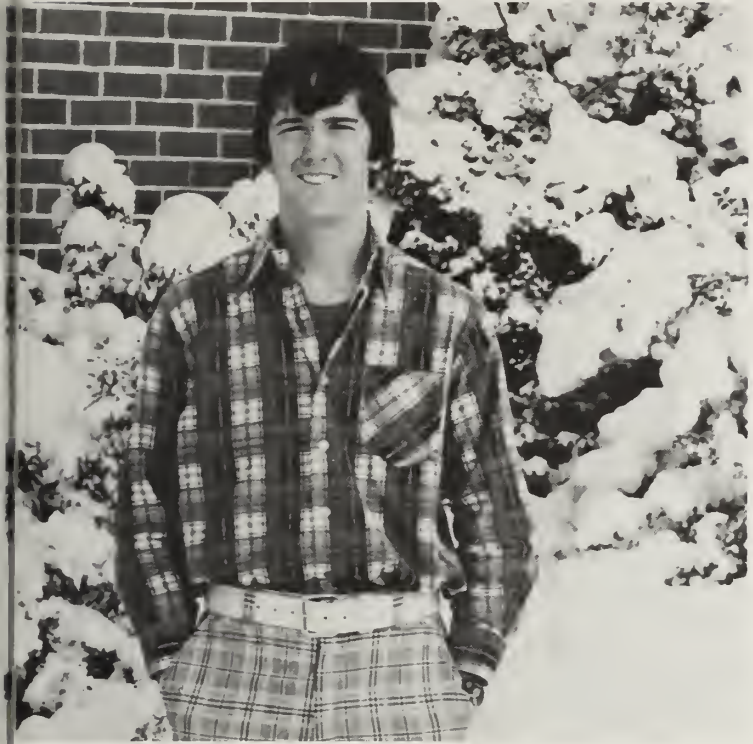

Looking forward to seeing you at our reunion —

John Leone and Katie McNulty you'd shed... Chris Shedd...

 (she has big blue eyes!) Susan O'Brien you'd be sincere do you'd have dumbples?

 Yep! With all this going for you... you'd have dumbples? Yep! With all this going for you...
 like Lee Gray...

You'd smile as brightly as Mary Moylean or Cheryl O'Brien... as bright as Sabean's legs. Wife: coooool like Pat Callahan's, or something's missing.

You'd have sharp ever so Matt Brennan's. Course we keep things on could you lose! (those would have been cute pictures!) and sex appeal!! like Patti Turner's or Cary Mahoney's oh-lala!! But with some innocence to go with it... like Kim Kibbe or Billy ... you'd even have Fred Caffrey or Carol Montgomery's disposition and you'd draw like Celine Dion or Ricki Lake?

I really should have more pictures.

very interesting.

like in Jimmie Copk or in moderation around here. And the bodies! Ay yay yay~ what a physique! of course, you'd have one like Tori Chesley or Doug Curtis. Peppiness is good for you, and you'd be as athletic as Adria Gallagher or Patti Owyer, so get up and go! Like Kim Kibbe and Chris like Carol Sutton or Billy and Chris

with a class like this, life can be very interesting.

1974-75 witnessed the arrival of one of the most productive years for the Scituate High Student Council. Established as a liaison between students and administration, the council has gone a step further to include the townspeople. Open meetings were held at night for parents and during the day for students. Among the highly successful accomplishments this year were the Anti-Litter campaign, Homecoming Week, Bounce Beat, collection for CARE, Modular Day, presentation of movies, and quadrangle walks.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

I will always have a fond memory of the Class of 1975. Although it was your last year at Scituate High School, it was my first. Your warm welcome and cooperation throughout the year was appreciated and will be remembered.

Your Yearbook is one of the few possessions you will keep through the many changes in your life. It serves as a tangible memory of your friends, classmates and experiences. Yet there are other memories, though less tangible than your Yearbook, that I hope you will keep throughout your life.

Please remember that during the years you shared with us we tried to help you use your minds and bodies to achieve personal happiness and to contribute to the welfare of society. Recall that the most fundamental problems you will face in our society are ones of perspective, value and character. Remind yourself that we serve each other by using our leisure fruitfully and exercising our political liberty responsibly. Finally, remember that at one time we were important to each other and I hope will continue to be so.

Life Is Made Up of Small Comings and Goings; for Everything We Take With Us, There Is Something We Leave Behind . . .

Mr. P. Jahnsan — we leave him a deflated football. Mr. K. Jahnsan — we leave walking over him. We leave Mr. Jayal, was he ever really there? We leave Ms. Keane in Partsville. Mr. Keenan — we leave him soft-soled shoes for each student. Mr. Kelly — we leave him 40 battles of Na-Daze. Mr. King — we leave him same happiness. We leave Mr. Komarin a new camera. We leave Mr. Krupnick a 10 gallon hat. We leave Mr. Leane without a great class to advise. We leave Mr. Lundin — Lumpy. We leave Mr. Lyons sitting over a flaming bunsen burner. We leave Mr. Marks a lathe. We leave Mr. Mattern in his usual daze. We leave Mr. Maynard leaping down the hall bumping into lockers. We leave Mrs. McCue an overhead projector that works. We leave Mr. McGonagle asdfjkl;. Mr. McGrail — we leave his expertise in Science. We leave Ms. McNulty as Karen Valentine in Room 222. We leave Mrs. Meyers the question, "Are you a turtle?" We leave Mrs. Manahan teaching us the realities of Living. We leave Mr. Manteira much luck with his new program. Mrs. Mantt — we leave another dinner for athletic directors. We leave Ms. Marin thinking about Halloween. We leave Mr. Morley still avoiding the topic of sex. Mrs. Moya — we leave with our masks intact. Mrs. Neary — we leave reading 3,000 words a minute. We leave Ms. Nelsan as equals. We leave Mr. Nard turtles in various colors. We leave Ms. O'Danovan a trip around the world. We leave Mr. Osgood the Peking Man. We leave Mr. Pappas a can of wax. We leave Mr. Parker a permanent Hamerom. We leave Mr. Perkins a gas can. We leave Mrs. Petrizzi a gift certificate to Mr. Thams. We leave Mr. Pisana a panda bear. We leave Ms. Reddy in a skinner box. We leave Ms. Roberts always starting heated arguments. We leave Mrs. Ragers, Francis Quirk, forever. Mrs. Ryan — we leave her a suggestion box full of "nasties." Mr. Ryan — we leave him an iambic pentameter. Mr. Samuelsan — we leave the freshman girls with their mini-skirts. Mr. Sheehan — we leave him, "Oh Really?" We leave Mrs. Silva 5 more inches. We leave Mr. Strades a new pair of green sneakers. We leave Mr. Stuart flying through space. We leave Mrs. Tondorf smoking behind the Sailors Galley. Ms. Vansakavios — we leave her a box of candy. We leave Mr. Webber hitting a soccer ball with a baseball bat. We leave Mr. Willwerth a hamerom full of Maureen Kelly's. We leave Mrs. Winslow — we leave begging her to give us Dennis Wilson's telephone number. We leave Mr. Zalewski the answer book. We leave Dr. Adams a new English Department. We leave Mr. Anzivino with the pleasure of having known him. Mrs. Ahearn — we leave her many thanks from Julie Lard. We leave Ms. Barber a case of Reese's cups. We leave Mr. Barlow in the depths of the sea.

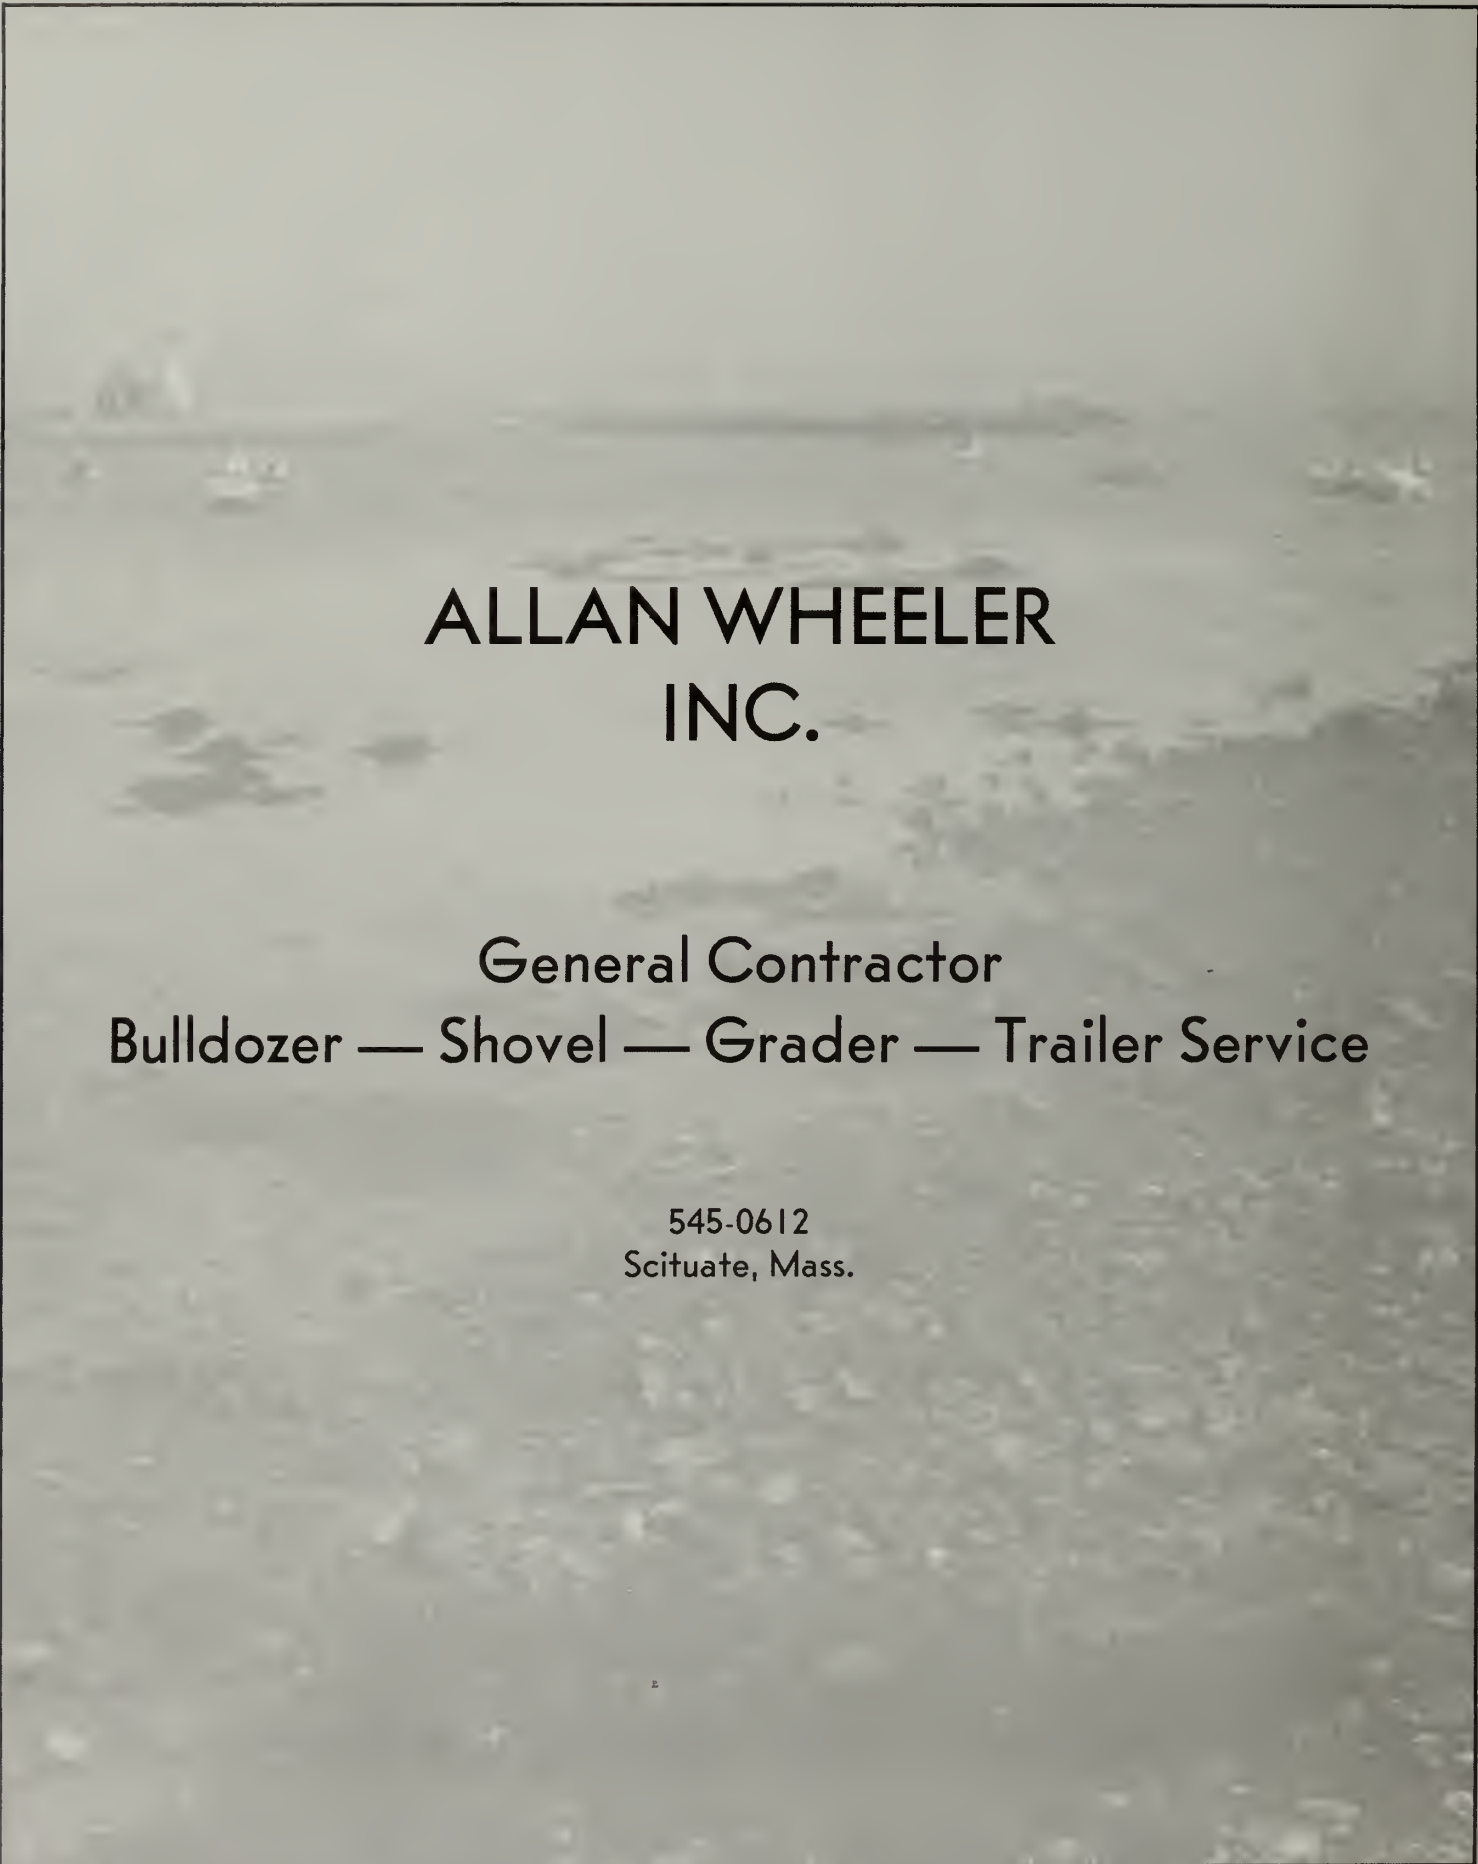

We leave Ms. Beacham babbling away in a corner of the Yearbook room. We leave Mrs. Becker a house on Jerusalem Road. Mr. Benait — we leave him still trying to figure out the animal noises in the library. We leave Mrs. Brawn alone while the class plays frisbee outside. Mr. Brawn — we leave him some new crayons. We leave Mr. Burnell actively twisting through Henle's Loop. Mrs. Burns — We leave her room in flames. Mr. Cararie — we leave him 5 sheephearts, 4 broken slides, 2 dividing planaria, and a frog in formaldehyde. We leave Mr. Catinella a school without a P.A. system. Mr. Cedrane — we leave him always right. We leave Mr. Certa a class of nice looking babes. We leave Mrs. Check a baby that speaks Spanish. Mr. Chiassan — we leave him some new songs. We leave Mr. Chiras patrolling 7th period. Mrs. Coleman — we leave her graduates of Greenbush Tech. We leave Mr. Callins our best wishes for his continuing success. We leave Mr. Camrack a shelf of Greenware and a broken kiln. We leave Mr. Canklin with his first OCL soccer championship. We leave Mr. Clancy running from the ghost of Michael Medici. We leave Mr. Carbin our nomination and vote for the Presidency. Mrs. Cate — we leave her some eggs — hatched. Mr. Datow — we leave him adjusting to the school. We leave Ms. Dalle a submarine sandwich. We leave Ms. Doyle within the framework of her own motif. We leave Mr. Dwyer a diaper, two pins, and many sleepless nights. Mr. Epstein — we leave him a drill press. We leave Mrs. Farrell a gas stove. We leave Mr. Faulkner a Drivers Ed. student with a mini-skirt on. We leave Mrs. Fenn a classroom full of wet babies. We leave Mr. Fitzgerald a rabbit's foot for good luck. We leave chasing Mrs. Fletcher with a pair of scissors. Mr. Flynn — we leave him audiovisual equipment that works. We leave Mr. Forina a little mellowed. We leave Mrs. Farrest another Algebra 2 and Trig. class to flunk. Mrs. Fortin — we leave her another pair of Earth Shoes. We leave Mrs. Gambell a baton. Mr. Gervan — we leave him in Rome with a hairy pickle. We leave Mr. Gilard laughing. Mr. Gibsan — we leave him the Third Reich. We leave Ms. Gonsalves some throat lozenges. We leave Ms. Gatsell in Wonderland. We leave Mr. Grady sadly, as friends. We leave Mrs. Harrington with shin splints and a 5 way tie. We leave Mr. Hartnett a Teacher's Guide to Baseball. Mr. Hayes — we leave looking over his shoulder. We leave Mr. Hazell a full bodied mirror. Mr. Hermance — we leave him Al Largando. We leave Mr. Hickey an Irish setter. Ms. Hilfinger — we leave her happy once more. We leave Mr. Jackman a clean environment. We leave Mr. Jahn . . . ah, ah, umm, don't you know, zzz . . .
